

Sprint 1 Report

Product Name: WaveStyled

Team Name: Waves

5/19/2022

Actions to Stop Doing

- The team has to stop spontaneously setting meeting times for our work/SCRUM meetings.
- We need to maintain the strict policy that all code is properly documented to ensure that other team members from different parts of the project can see another team member's code and know what it does.

Actions to Start Doing

- Despite having a framework ready on Trello, we need to start using it as a way to update and maintain our SCRUM board effectively. Even though the SCRUM master has kept his own log, we need an organized and public way of seeing the sprint progress.
- We also need to collect more testing data, whether that be more outfit/clothing data or UI simulators, so that we can properly ensure our code works and flesh out any bugs before advancing forward in the project.
- We need to establish separate branches to the GitHub environment so the team members on the UI side can experiment with their own ideas without having to deal with code merges. This will make progress efficient and prevent hold ups in the development caused by bad merges.
- We need to be more explicit of who is doing what, and everyone of the team should know their task as well as that of the rest of the team members. This will prevent overlap in tasks.

Actions to Keep Doing

- The team should maintain the 3x weekly in-person meetings, as we are able to accomplish significant progress in the coding and management fronts when we are around each other
- We need to communicate with each other schedules in order to set a rigid time and place to do our work to ensure that everyone can make it to the meetings on time. So far, all team members have been good in vocalizing their schedules and progress.
- We should continue our communication and updates through Discord because it has proved to be an effective way of organizing discourse on all aspects of the project and serves as a way of remotely conducting meetings if someone can't make it
