

STYLE GUIDE

- Consistent documentation
  - At the top of each file, have a description of the file and what purpose it serves
  - Above each function, follow this structure:
    - Function → name of function
    - Desc → description of function
    - Input → input parameters
    - Returns → what the function returns
  - For the python functions, include a series of pip installs that must be run in order for the file to work as intended
